

2017 Fall Lecture Series

Date: October 31st 2017

Speaker: Linda McQuaig

Background: Journalist, non-fiction author, columnist

Title: “Reclaiming Populism in the Age of Trump”

---

Description: The surprise election of Donald Trump reveals there is deep dissatisfaction with the status quo – in America and possibly in Canada too. But the real question is whether Trump and his crowd get to define and shape that anti-status quo sentiment, moulding it into an ugly juggernaut. Another option is that progressives will be able to tap into that vein of popular dissatisfaction with a more broadly appealing message – one that truly challenges the elite, including the billionaires in Trump’s cabinet.

Link to more information:

https://www.thestar.com/authors/mcquaig\_linda.html
keynotespeakerscanada.ca/speaker/linda-mcquaig

www.lindamcquaig.com/